Baking with Moomins!

On last Sunday (15.12.13) we had "Baking with Moomins" at Klubicko for family`s with children.

My mother and big sister sent me some supplies, for the Finnish ginger breads ,which you cannot buy from here.I made the dough for the ginger breads on Saturday. It was my first time and I was really afraid that it won`t work. Luckily it actually worked and even tasted as it should taste ☺

Then on Sunday ...The dough was cold as ice since it has set the whole night in the fridge,so Natalie told me to put the dough in the oven for a while so that when the people come they can start to bake right away.Of course I didn`t think it till the end before I put it there,the bowl where the dough was,was made of plastic and it melted from the bottom in to the oven...my fault... Because of this little accident of mine,we couldn`t actually bake the ginger breads,only to "shape" them:D

Luckily it didn`t bother anyone!Actually people where pleased that everyone could stay in the same room,no one was standing next to the oven the whole time.Veronica:"It`s great,now we all will get the smell of the ginger breads in to our home`s! Natalie even told that it was one of the best events this month,relaxing afternoon without any "obligations".Katka:"there is always something good in the bad" ;)

Natalie had ordered an amazing Moomin house made from ginger bread!.

The children made their own Moomin house`s and watched Moomin series. We danced those already famous finnish songs:pää,olkapää...and Ville &Valle. I had Moomin balloons in Moomin plastic bag for each child, they also received a stamp of Moomin.

I really do feel like the accident that was meant to happen ;) I had again nice time and I believe that others did too! :)
